

PSR J1023+0038 is a neutron star spin-up system. We think all such fast-spinning neutron stars come in from a companion. We have actually observed a pulsar (left) and an X-ray bright system (right). In fact, the system is in this mysterious state where the neutron star have spun up, slowed down, and spun up again.

ASTRON

Netherlands Institute for Radio Astronomy