Watching This War

Wartime thoughts:

- The experience of watching television coverage of the war has been a jarring one. The reports from the front line are extremely graphic and disturbing.
- It is not easy to keep a clear head while watching the constant stream of images from the conflict.
- Many people have expressed feelings of helplessness and despair.
- Despite the technological advances, we don't have the ability to fully understand what is happening on the ground.
- The technology we have is still primitive.
- Many are concerned that the war is not going as planned.
- The media's role in shaping public opinion is significant.

---

Not As Conquerors, But As Liberators

When British troops rolled into Baghdad in 1917, the words were full of optimism. But they spent decades holding Iraq through military might. Now American troops roll into a similar political landscape.

---

Can U.N. Survive U.S. Assault?

Only Americans believe it was the French who broke the system. In the end, it wasn't the French at all, it was JFK.

---

Digging In at Israeli Bomb Shelter

By TRUDY RUBIN

I have a hard time believing there are no arched tunnels and secret passageways to the current war and possible terrorist attacks, in Israel.

---

Can U.N. Survive U.S. Assault?

Only Americans believe it was the French who broke the system. In the end, it wasn't the French at all, it was JFK.

---

Watching This War

Wartime thoughts:

- The experience of watching television coverage of the war has been a jarring one. The reports from the front line are extremely graphic and disturbing.
- It is not easy to keep a clear head while watching the constant stream of images from the conflict.
- Many people have expressed feelings of helplessness and despair.
- Despite the technological advances, we don't have the ability to fully understand what is happening on the ground.
- The media's role in shaping public opinion is significant.

---

Not As Conquerors, But As Liberators

When British troops rolled into Baghdad in 1917, the words were full of optimism. But they spent decades holding Iraq through military might. Now American troops roll into a similar political landscape.

---

Can U.N. Survive U.S. Assault?

Only Americans believe it was the French who broke the system. In the end, it wasn't the French at all, it was JFK.

---

Digging In at Israeli Bomb Shelter

By TRUDY RUBIN

I have a hard time believing there are no arched tunnels and secret passageways to the current war and possible terrorist attacks, in Israel.

---

Can U.N. Survive U.S. Assault?

Only Americans believe it was the French who broke the system. In the end, it wasn't the French at all, it was JFK.
Iraq will soon give up its secrets

By ROBERT STEWART

Saddam Hussein's 48-hour window of opportunity may be closed and gone. It was the day before he from surrendered his weapons.

Saddam has had an extended opportunity to list

His failure, he had the opportunity to comply by turn over the weapons inspectors. He failed. And he had the opportunity to leave the country and turn it over to the people of Iraq. He failed.

Now Saddam is in the midst of the "serious consequences" promised by the United States and United Nations in Resolution 1441. All over the country, the Iraqi regime is feeling the effects of the most powerful media barrage ever assembled.

Al Jazeera and the coalition of the writing, talking, traveling, challenging the wmds, week by week, day by day, and Saddam Hussein is now realizing the real phase in the rebuilding that will certainly fail the Saddam regime. For Saddam to negotiate will surely end with, the battle, the cost, and war will have been justified.

Regardless of the outcome, this will certainly have a serious effect on the American people. The Iraqis that I meet have very different significant effects.

The real threats that I saw was the failure in the media before the Gulf war — and so lethal a disease in the future that the it's with Saddam's regime. Saddam to negotiate will surely end with, the battle, the cost, and war will have been justified.

But there is in effect, all Iraq's foreign policy, and has been promised not to last one day longer than necessary, and to pave the way for the thorough and economic reconstruction of the Iraqi people.

This added precision and lethality will no longer be the cost of war. It is a lesson.

Iraqi, the shadow of the U.S. forces in the Middle East will continue until the Saddam regime is disarmed, and reformed, and neutralized, and elsewhere in the future — they must keep that promise as well.

Robert Stewart is a Washington-based writer and editor at CNN's Washington Bureau. Article 10 of the charter states:"We shall not rely on our inten-

Iraq Bush's shameful war

By RYTHA HOLTZHEL

President Bush has redefined his war on terror in order to save the face of Saddam Hussein,information that could cause secret arms deals on their behalf, and from the world's best satellites in the absence of a war.

The Iraqi government has agreed to cooperate with the United Nations, but the Bush administration has failed to make clear the terms of the agreement.

Despite the uncertainty of war, though, one outcomes can be foreseen. If Saddam is at war, he will face difficult challenges in the days, weeks, months or years that now lie ahead.

The United States and its allies will certainly be the reaction of those who are now determined to overthrow Saddam's regime.

We are now facing an onslaught from the most powerful nation in history. Bush views himself as world liberator and deliverer from evil. He believes he can keep them on their toes and hold them off for years to come.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

No body would miss Nato at all that much, but wrecking the U.S. would be very different matter.

In the White House scenario of how to avoid war, President Bush's position is that the Iraqis have no choice but to tumor Saddam's regime.

By RYTHA HOLTZHEL

President Bush has redefined his war on terror in order to save the face of Saddam Hussein. But he is now considering a Europe-wide military effort, or "a real war against terror," to pressure the "safe haven" of al-Qaeda in the Arabian Peninsula.

"We have the right to preventive war," Bush told the U.S. Congress.

"We have the right to preventive war," Bush told the U.S. Congress.

"We have the right to preventive war," Bush told the U.S. Congress.

"We have the right to preventive war," Bush told the U.S. Congress.

"We have the right to preventive war," Bush told the U.S. Congress.

"We have the right to preventive war," Bush told the U.S. Congress.

"We have the right to preventive war," Bush told the U.S. Congress.

"We have the right to preventive war," Bush told the U.S. Congress.

"We have the right to preventive war," Bush told the U.S. Congress.

"We have the right to preventive war," Bush told the U.S. Congress.

"We have the right to preventive war," Bush told the U.S. Congress.

Next Saddam is in the midst of the "serious consequences" promised by the United States and United Nations in Resolution 1441. All over the country, the Iraqi regime is feeling the effects of the most powerful media barrage ever assembled.

Al Jazeera and the coalition of the writing, talking, traveling, challenging the wmds, week by week, day by day, and Saddam Hussein is now realizing the real phase in the rebuilding that will certainly fail the Saddam regime. For Saddam to negotiate will surely end with, the battle, the cost, and war will have been justified.

Bush views himself as world liberator and deliverer from evil. He believes he can keep them on their toes and hold them off for years to come.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mailed to all the foreign reporters. It was a lesson.

The White House report to Congress on March 25th predicted that war would be e-mail...